We promise a stress-free experience that will save you time and money while also avoiding lawsuits. At Protrk, we believe in getting it done right the first time, helping you to avoid any headaches down the road.

Having spent over forty years in the design, build, and construction trades, I've seen many changes in the industry.

Eight years ago, I noticed there were some severe voids in the ADA means and methods process. For example, on a typical construction project, ADA requirements represent about two percent of the overall project but demand twenty percent of the supervision to complete the work as designed. Which, in the end, may not be CASp certified.

My mission was to create the Bay Area's premier single-source ADA design, and build construction company. We are embarking on our fifth decade of continuing to utilize the best practices in design, value engineering, and stress-free client experience.

Our commitment to you has always been and will always be to provide the most cost-effective, stress-free design-build experience.
